Greenwood Village Development Pioneer Names Blair Madden Bui CEO of John Madden Company

DENVER, Colo. (May 5, 2015) Greenwood Village, Colo.-based commercial developer John Madden Company (www.johnmaddenco.com) is proud to announce Blair Madden Bui has been named CEO of the family-owned and operated business.

Madden Bui joined the company in 2011 and has since worked side by side with company founder John Madden Jr. to learn the family business. Madden Jr., will remain involved in the day-to-day activities of the company in line with the succession plan. Additionally, Madden Jr.'s son, J. Madden, will be involved in the company in an advisory capacity as co-chairman.

“I have tremendous respect for the legacy of this company and the man who built it,” said Madden Bui. “John Madden Company has always been about developing and managing spaces that perform well for tenants and investors, and add value to community. As CEO, my plan is to apply that approach to a new generation of developments with a particular emphasis on sustainability. All of our current properties are LEED certified. That will continue to be a strong focus of mine moving forward.”

Founded in the late 1960s, John Madden Company has developed more than 10 million square feet of commercial buildings and public spaces in Greenwood Village, including Fiddler’s Green and Palazzo Verdi. Outside of Colorado, John Madden Company has developed property in Nebraska, Arizona, California, Michigan, Wyoming and Iowa.

“Blair is an exceptionally bright, hardworking woman who is not afraid to take risks,” Madden Jr. said, “Family business is tricky; it doesn’t always work out that you find the right person to take a company forward, but our synergy is very heartwarming. I couldn’t have found a better person to take on the role.”

Since taking the helm, Madden Bui has focused on helping achieve the current 100 percent occupancy rate in the 700,000 square feet of office space John Madden Company owns and manages. She has also launched a new company website to better showcase current and future projects, and facilitate stronger communications with tenants.
